

Minor oral surgery

You have been given an appointment to have minor oral surgery under local anaesthetic. This leaflet has been designed to improve your understanding of the surgery and contains answers to many of the commonly asked questions. If you have any other questions that the leaflet does not answer or would like further explanation please ask.

Having surgery under local anaesthetic means you will be awake and will have an injection to numb the affected area, similar to going to the dentist.

The length of the procedure varies depending on what type of surgery you are having.

Before your appointment

We recommend that you eat, drink and take any regular medication as normal before coming in for your appointment unless we, or your GP, tell you otherwise.

Please bring a list of your current medication with you on the day. If you are on blood thinners, please discuss with clinician prior the surgery.

Some people who have local anaesthetic on an empty stomach feel faint. Having something to eat beforehand will help you to avoid this sensation.

It is not necessary that you have somebody to accompany you to your appointment but we do recommend it. You or the person accompanying you will have to arrange for suitable transport home afterwards.

Any pre-operative tests will have been discussed with you at your consultation appointment.
